It's 45 years of joy for Margaret and Michael

IT may have started with a rain-sodden first date – but today Margaret and Michael Williams will be celebrating 45 years of married bliss.

The Sutton Coldfield couple will enjoy a low-key family celebration of their Sapphire anniversary on December 20th, before the clan jets off to Spain for Christmas.

And the pair, who wed at Aston Parish Church in 1958, will have plenty of time to reminisce during a round-the-world trip next year.

But it has been revealed that those years of bliss may not have happened at all, after Margaret was over an hour late for their first date. Luckily, Michael waited in the rain for her and a life together beckoned.

The celebrations will be led by daughters Clare and Louise, along with their husbands Adrian and Bernard. Grandchildren Harry, Victoria and Caroline will also be there.

Clare said: "Mummy and daddy are mischievous, energetic and good fun. They are the rocks of our family and we all want to say 'congratulations'."
