BRIDE'LL PARTY!

RAISING A GLASS
OR TWO: Lindsay
Pottage, née
Dobson

NO SOONER had the vows been swapped than the champagne corks were popped!

Lindsay and Damian Pottage tied the knot in style – with a luxury wedding in New York on June 9 – and then partied the night away with a select band of hand-picked guests. With the magnificent Empire State Building visible from the balcony of their luxurious penthouse suite, the newlyweds enjoyed their first hours as Mr and Mrs Pottage. Looking back on the best day of her life, Lindsay said: “The whole day was amazing.

“We walked through the streets of Soho to the reception with everyone from the street cafés and bars cheering and clapping – I felt like a film star!”

Damian added: “We chose New York because we wanted something different – and it was a perfect day. It feels great to be married!”
